TWO WORLD BEATERS FOR AGENTS.
Want agents to sell the wonderful Seltena, which turns a gallon of milk into eight pounds of buttermuch, a cooking or second grade of butter, better than most of the inferior butters or oleomargarines purchased almost everywhere. It is vastly better than lard, lasts and goes farther. It can be so cheaply sold as to supplant all competitors and imitators of butter, and still pay the agent 200 per cent profit on all sales, also a preparation or making ider champagne, said by epicures and chemical experts to be as fine and delicate as the best grape champagne with all the foam and bead upon it; yet a predigested drink (a great temperance drink), and the only food drink that will quickly cure indigestion, gastric stomach disorders; besides being a most powerful nervine. This wonderful tonic, wonderful food, delicious, delightful, invigorating drink, can be sold in quart bottles at $1.88 per dozen. This is the cheapest drink, the cheapest food, the best nervine, the greatest (yet harmless) bracer in all the world, and would be cheap at $1.98 per bottle. Over 100 per cent, profit on every bottle to agents. Address 478, care Times-Dispatch.

WOODMEN HONOR DEAD Three Monuments Unveiled at Oakwoo by Two Local Camps.

Monuments were unveiled at Oak wood Cemetery yesterday afternoon to three members of Hickory and Black-three members of Hickory and Black-gum Camps, Woodmen of the World, a large crowd being present, including representatives of the order from Petersburg, Hampien and Newport News. The monuments were erected to Willie S. Cottrell and Robert Hechler, of Hickory, and Philip Lewis, of Blackgum Camps.

After the usual ceremonies at the grave, conducted by the two camps jointly, Mayor McCarthy delivered a brief address, speaking on the motto of the order, "Love, Honor and Remembrance." He analyzed the meaning, the force and the usefulness of these attributes, and showed that by proper observance they would tend to create a better type of citizenship,

"This bridge whist craze, which will take root again after Easter, is not as sporadic as the skating craze, but it has selzed the whole country," said a Washington man at the Richmond. "It is about the only game that men will play for fun. I was talking the other day with a woman who related a rather funny circumstance, anent the flends. Over in England the father of a bridge-playing family died and the house was divided on the question of cremation or regular burfal. The wife wanted to leave it to the children, but they held a conference and told her she would have to settle it. I guess we will have to make it spades," she said, after a few moments of deliberation, so they buried him."
